

SETTING THE BRIDE AT EASE

"Widder's" Sympathy Went Out to Fellow Passenger.

A couple recently married had just entered the train that was to bear them to the mountains on their honeymoon, when they became aware of the close scrutiny of them by a female passenger, who had evidently "spotted" a bride and groom. The young wife, on opening her handbag, let fall some rice on the floor, and the woman smiled. The other passengers regarded the couple with interest. Seeing that the bride was every moment becoming more flushed and uncomfortable by reason of their scrutiny, the woman in the goodness of her heart, leaned across the carriage.

"Never mind, my dear!" she said. "I'm a widder now, but by this time next week I'll be in the same fix myself!"

Depends on the Dogs.

Asa Goddard, of the American Automobile association, was recounting in Worcester some of his touring adventures.

"One summer morning," he said, "the approach of a great flock of sheep obliged me to pull off the narrow country road. I halted my car, and watched with interest the passage of the sheep, the intelligent dogs and the shepherd."

"I had a short talk with the shepherd about his odd and difficult trade."

"Look here," I said, "what do you do, driving sheep like this on a narrow road, when you meet another flock coming in the opposite direction?"

"Well," said the shepherd, "ye just drive straight on, both of ye, and the one that has the best dogs gets the most sheep."

What Did She Mean?

Mrs. Armitage had a negro servant who continually prated of a certain Mrs. Reed for whom she formerly worked. Weary of hearing Mrs. Reed quoted so often, the mistress asked one day:

"Well, Samantha, what kind of work did you do at Mrs. Reed's, anyway?"

"Well, honey, I cooked foh huh, I did, an' I cleaned foh huh, an' I swep' foh huh, an' I washed huh pussonel appea'ance."—Lippincott's.

High-Priced Meat

may be a

Blessing

If it gives one the chance to know the tremendous value of a complete change of diet.

Try this for breakfast:

A Little Fruit

A dish of Grape-Nuts and Cream

A Soft-Boiled Egg

Some Nice, Crisp Toast

Cup of Well-made

Postum Food Coffee

That's all, and you feel comfortable and well-fed until lunch.

THEN REPEAT,

And at night have a liberal meat and vegetable dinner, with a Grape-Nuts pudding for dessert.

Such a diet will make a change in your health and strength worth trial.

Ranges Being Pinched Out.

Santa Fe.—Benito Cordova, a merchant and sheep raiser at Gallegos, Union county, spent the past few days in this city on a visit to his brother, Desederio. He says that his section of Union county has been filling with homestead entrymen and that there was very little public range left for the sheep raisers and cattle growers.

In fact, he thought they would have to go out of business in his vicinity and either move to pastures new or sell their live stock. The rains have been plentiful enough this season and as a rule good crops of cereals and feed stuffs will be raised by the homesteaders. Many of them will be permanent residents and their improvements are of a substantial character. Most of them seem to be well-to-do and have brought fine live stock, farming machinery and furniture with them.

To the old timers said Mr. Cordova, and especially to the cattle growers, the change in the situation is astonishing. Prosperity reigns and although the livestock growers may have to go out of business they are getting very good prices for beef cattle, for lambs and wool.

Murder in Second Degree.

Santa Fe, N. M.—After being out thirty-six hours the jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree in the case of Jap Clark, a cowboy, charged with killing James M. Chase at the Torrance depot on April 4, 1905. The trial took place at Estancia, and Clark asserted that he shot Chase in self defense. The jury stood for a long time 10 for conviction and 2 for acquittal.

A motion was at once made for a new trial. W. A. McKean, who was charged with being an accomplice of Clark, was acquitted.

The trial of Domingo Vales, charged with the assassination of Col. J. F. Chavez at Pinos Wells, was begun. Chavez was a Republican leader, superintendent of public construction, ex-delegate to Congress, and president of the legislative council, when murdered. He was sitting at a table eating supper with a friend, when a shot through a window killed him. The assassin made his escape. Jacobo Sedillo, charged with being implicated in the murder, was taken from Santa Fe to Estancia today, and it is expected that he will turn state's evidence.

New Road to be Built.

A branch line of railroad is to be built between Clovis and Camed, in Roosevelt county, connecting the Eastern Railway of New Mexico and the Pecos Valley and Northeastern Railway, according to a document declaring this intention filed by the former company in the office of the territorial secretary. The distance between these two stations on an air line as gauged by reference to a map of New Mexico, is about fifteen miles almost due north and south. The Eastern Railway of New Mexico is what is commonly known as the Belen "cut-off," the main line of which is between Belen and Texico. It is a part of the great transcontinental system of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway.

A. B. Cover, the man arrested at Gallup a few days ago on suspicion of being one of the men implicated in the shooting of Special Officer James McFarland of the Santa Fe Railway a week ago at Belen, was fully identified by the officer and was taken to Belen and given a preliminary hearing. He waived examination and was bound over to await the action of the next grand jury of Valencia county. He was taken to Los Lunas and placed in the county jail. Cover stoutly maintains his innocence and claims it is a case of mistaken identity.

Despite the fact that the last Arizona assembly put the ban on gambling in the sister territory, word comes from Tucson in particular and other towns in general, that gambling still flourishes in Arizona in plain and open defiance of both city ordinances and the territorial law. The Tucson Citizen has been making a crusade against gambling in that city, which may end in arousing the proper authorities to action.

The jury venire for the September terms of court for Union and Colfax counties were selected Saturday last by Judge William J. Mills at Las Vegas.

The Aged Babe.

W. H. Trimmer of Molino, Florida, says there are no happy faces in New York. Mr. Trimmer, an aged, healthy, cheerful man, visited New York last month and the strained, worried look of the New Yorkers shocked and displeased him.

"You live too fast," Mr. Trimmer said to a reporter. "That is your trouble, fast living. Your very children have an aged air. Why—"

He gave a loud laugh. "Did you ever hear about the New York child and the christening? No? Then listen."

"There was a young couple on the east side that postponed the christening of their first born till the little fellow was three years old."

"He was, of course, very wise for three. He had gotten about a lot. In short, he was a New Yorker."

"And the morning of the christening, in the hushed and crowded church, when the clergyman took the white-robed babe in his arms and sprinkled its small face plentifully with water, it grimaced and spluttered and shouted up angrily in the good priest's face: 'Hey, cheese it, will ye? If ye do that igin, I'll biff ye one.'"

When it Becomes a Personal Loss.

"George, the cook has gone."

"Let her go. I never liked her."

"But she took all my currant jelly and both my best tablecloths."

"O, let her go."

"And she carried off the recipe for waffles you like so well."

"What's that! Which way did she go? Why didn't you call the police?"
